DOOR ADVANTAGES

DOORS WITH IDEAL WEIGHT

These are high performance solid core fillers made up of triple layer density particle board imported from Germany and have dual core layer of high density wood. Ordinary Particle Board is heavy. This affect handling during installation. More over bigger hinges are necessary to keep the door in the right position. This leads to higher costs.

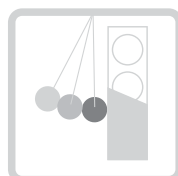

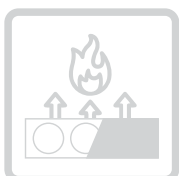

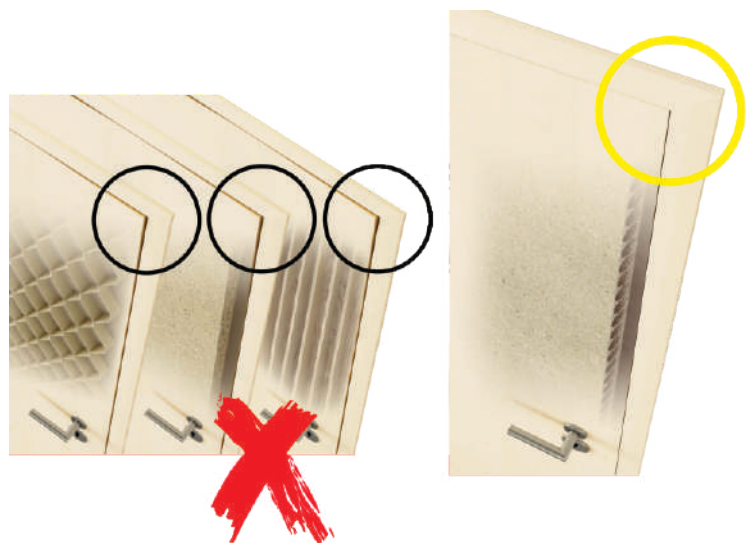

IMPACT RESISTANCE

Honeycomb does not resist mechanical stress. Common Experience shows however that doors are under continuous workload and can easily be damaged. our imported tubular board featuring excellent characteristics guarantees their integrity for decades.

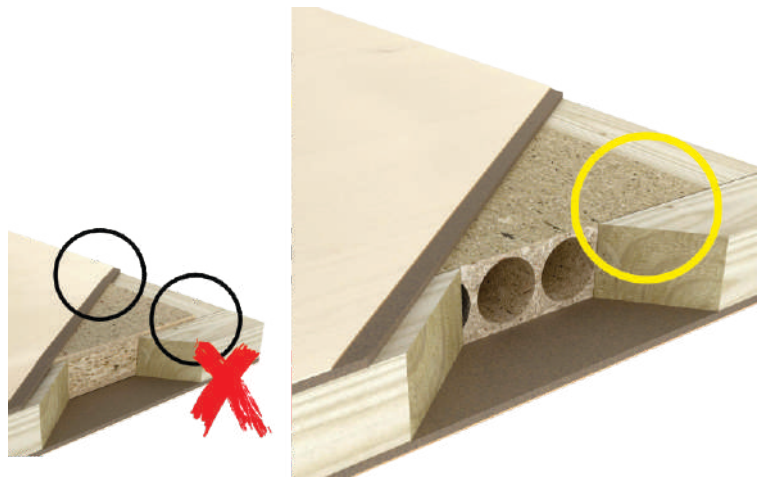

NO BENDING

Honeycomb Infill, Ordinary Particle Board and Wooden Strips cause bending which however leads to a number of defects in the door's daily use: Closing is impeded, noise passes through, heat insulation is decreased and an aesthetical defect is visible.

NO TELEGRAPHING

Ordinary Particle Board always has the tendency to grow in thickness, This leads to telegraphing and thus to an optical defect to the door surface at the medium run. Our imported Tubular Board is extremely precise in thickness and - even more important- does not grow in thickness during the door's lifetime.

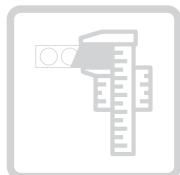

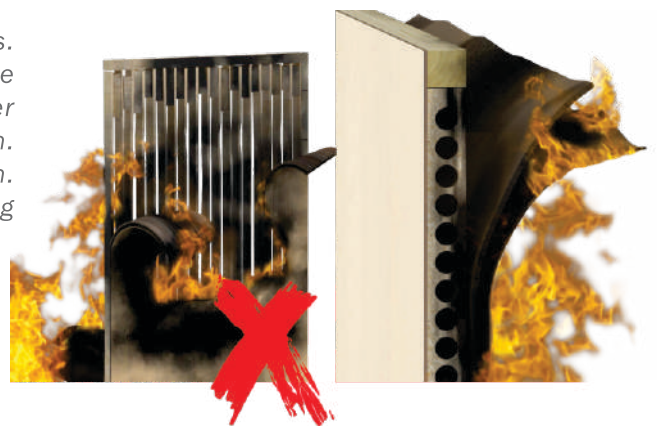

SOUND INSULATION

Honeycomb does not form a real obstacle to sound. Quiet the contrary: Noise easily passes through. This leads to disturbance in neighbouring rooms. Our Imported Tubular Board performs brilliantly as a sound barrier. This has been proven in independent testing institutes.

FIRE RESISTENCE

Wooden Strips Fire is a serious threat especially in big cities. Using conventional doors it will take you only minutes to face a burn through. This picture is shows a Honeycomb infill after 8 min. under fire and a Wooden strip infill after 20 min. Our Tubular Board as infill has proven to provide easily 30 min. fire protection to the door. Up to 60 min. can be achieved using upgraded types of construction.

FRAMES AND ARCHITRAVES

Frames and architraves are the essential associates to a door. They add a whole new dimension and are crucial to the form and structure of a door. From a selection of 100% kiln dried wood, be it a HPL or an engineered door, the frames and architraves make the door complete
